Warns Against Peace Talk

John D. Rockefeller, ir., who presided over the meeting, declared the campaign they were about to inaugurate, was the greatest ever attempted in any country. He warned the workers that they would be confronted constantly by the question of why there was longer need to give if the war was about over.

"In the past," said Mr. Rockefeller, ir., who presided the past, and was the greatest ever attempted in the past," said Mr. Rockefeller, ir. this country to make our men more fit to fight. It is infinitely more important now, that we should been devery effort to make them fit to withstand the temptations of the months of idleness they will be forced to spend after the war is over while waiting to be sent home."

Mr. Rockefeller, read three letters he had received yesterday, without, however, making public the names of the campaign.

The committee, as made public the meeting and menchantible generation in the collect new sums of money in order to secure the welfare to the united States this simple token of my admiration.

"Our Allied countries will never be able to make too great a sacrifice for the gallant troops who defend in Europe the Sacred cause of right and freedom. The American soldier's splenting needs no spur; it needs no prover what would be confronted constantly by the question of why there was longer needs to give if the war was about over.

"In the past," said Mr. Rockefeller, it is constituted to be held at Carnegia to what we bent every effort in this country to make our men more fit to fight. AN AMENDMENT TO THE TAX LAWS

Chapter 1 of the Revised Statutes of 1918 as adopted by the BUSINESS MEN OF GREATER NEW YORK

AN ACT. To provide revenue for the welfare of the boys in camp and on the battle line.

SECTION 1. EACH and every corporation doing business in Greater New York shall impose upon itself, during the week of Nov. 11th to 18th. a voluntary tax of not less than 1/4 of 1% on its outstanding capital stock and shall pay the same to the UNITED WAR WORK CAMPAIGN, INC., in four equal installments-beginning on the first of December, 1918, and on the first of each of the three following months.

SECTION 2. EACH and every firm doing business in Greater New York shall impose upon itself, during the aforesaid week, a voluntary tax of not less than 21/2% of its net profits, and shall pay the same in accordance with the provisions of the preceding section.

SECTION 3. EACH and every employee of the corporations and firms specified in the foregoing paragraphs (except the higher salaried officers and firm members, who are expected to make sur-gifts) shall impose upon themselves a voluntary tax of One Full Day's Pay, and shall pay the same in accordance with the provisions of the foregoing Section 1.

This system of "Voluntary Taxation" has been devised to give recognition to the principle that there should be EQUALITY in GIFTS, just as there should be EQUALITY in TAXATION. Business men and their employees are constantly asking when solicited for funds to support the Great War Agencies-"What is my share? What is the other fellow giving?" The answer is: "The Industries Division of the UNITED WAR WORK CAM-PAIGN suggests a uniform basis of giving as outlined above. It is a ready-tohand measuring rod which will spread the load evenly and without undue burden on anyone. Special circumstances may make it necessary for some to give less. In many instances, some will give more. We have already bee n informed by a number of corporations-including some of the largest and some of the smallest—that they have decided to make gifts in excess of the suggested uniform basis. We have also been informed that there will be many employees who will give more than one full day's pay. The decision in every instance rests on the consciences of the business men and their employees. The Campaign managers can only indicate a uniform basis which must be averaged in order to produce the amount needed.

PEACE is coming. The right kind of peace, too, from a military and political standpoint; but the complete fruits of the right kind of peace will not be gathered until, and unless, our boys are sustained through the long months of demobilization so that they come back to their homes and to their industries KEEN, FIT and CLEAN.

PARIS (NIGHT)-Our troops continue to pursue the enemy rear guards. During the day we liberated a large zone of French territory and numerous inhabitants.

On the left we accentuated our progress east of the La Capelle-Avesnes road. We have advanced our lines near the Fortress of Hirson. More to the east we have reached at numerous points the south bank of the Thon River. Be-tween Origny and Liart we have es-tablished bridgeheads on the north bank.

On our right we are along the Meuse from Mezieres to the neighborhood of Bazeilles. The number of prisoners taken since yesterday exceeds 2,000. Everywhere the enemy is abandoning guns and material.

PARIS (DAY).—Our progress was resumed again this morning on the entire front. French advance elements reached Liart, thirty kilometres north of Rethel.
Further to the right we captured early this morning Singly and Frenois and penetrated into the outskirts of Sedan. The number of prisoners taken yesterday was more than 1,500. The amount of material captured was increased considerably.

BRITISH

LONDON (NIGHT)—Despite the very difficult weather our troops, advancing in a driving rain, have made substantial progress on the front south of the Mons-Conde canal.

On the right we have captured Avesnes and have passed the line of the Avesnes-Maubeuge road both north and south of the town. In the centre we have cleared Hautmont and are approaching the railway west of Maubeuge.

of Maubeuge.

On the left we have taken Malilaquiet. Fayt-le-Franc, Dour and Thulin and are advancing along the Mons-Conde canal.

Further north, his flank threatened by our advance on this battlefront, the enemy has commenced to withdraw south of Tournai. We have captured Conde, and, crossing the Scheldt canal south of the town of Antoing, have taken La Plaigne and Belloy. We hold the western portion of Tournai. Belloy. entered the port of Zara. The Italian flag was raised by Captain Deboccard, who has been appointed military governor. The monuments of Francis Joseph and Baron Tegetthoff, former commander in chief of the Austrian navy, were overthrown by the crowd. The occupation of Lussinpiccolo by Italians is also announced.

Upon assuming his functions as governor of Triest, General Pettiti addressed a proclamation to the people thanking them for the reception given him and giving assurance that everything would be done to restore the normal life of the city. The greatest enthusiasm over the change in conditions is being shown by the inhabitants of Istria and Dalmatia.

In the booty captured by the Italians were 3,000 railroad cars and 100 locomotives.

Movember 3, the date of the libera-tion of Trent and Triest, has been pro-claimed a national holiday.

Zara is a seaport of Austria-Hungary and is the capital of Dalmatia. It is situated on a promontory on the eastern coast of the Adriatic 170 miles southeast of Venice. Lussinpiccolo is a town on an island belonging to the crownland of Istria. It is the principal seaport of the Quarnero Islands, between Istria and the Croatian coast.

were entirely cut off from their base of supplies. It is mysterious how they fed themselves in that region, which was entirely deprived of all foodstuffs. As far as I can make out, they lived all that time on grass, roots, turnips and similar food. I have seen officers fill their pockets with bread which they crumbled up. Occasionally they would eat a few handfuls, thus keeping themselves alive for days.
